We need to pray for wisdom and courage. We need grace to retain our humanity even as we confront the inhumanity of our government's policies.

We need to remind our leaders that Romans 13 concludes with these words: "For the one who loves another has fulfilled the law. ... The commandments are summed up in this saying: 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.'"

13th Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year "B" -
"Do Not Be Afraid, Just Have Faith"

The story of Jodi Ettenberg is a story of self discovery through traveling. According to Lara Parker, "after five-plus years of working as a corporate lawyer in New York, Montrealer Jodi Ettenberg decided to pack it up and eat her way around the world for a year. Next thing she knew, one year turned into another and another, and she's now nearing six years of travel to faraway places.

While she jokes that she "eats soup for a living", she's not too far off: Her site, Legal Nomads (which she started to keep her mother updated about her travels) houses photos of foods from around the world. Though Legal Nomads is unmonetized (she has turned down sponsored links or ads), Jodi supports herself with freelance writing, consulting work in social media, and, more recently, feeding her hungry eaters when they visit Saigon.

When asked if she plans to return to "real life" Ettenberg told BuzzFeed that she takes things one day at a time. "I am thankful for the ability to have built a business around the foods and places I love, and never quit my job to 'be' a travel writer. If this doesn't work out, going back to being a lawyer isn't the worst thing I can think of. But it's far less fun than what I am doing now!"

Walking and preaching around the region of Samaria was for Jesus, not a journey of self-discovery but one of self-revelation. Today's gospel is part of an ongoing attempt to answer that fundamental question – WHO IS THIS MAN, JESUS? At Caesarea Philippi (Mtt 16:13-20) people wondered if Jesus was Moses, Elijah or one of the prophets who has come back to life. It was Peter who later revealed the truth to us. Both the story of the Baptism of Jesus (Mtt 3:17) and the Transfiguration of Jesus (Mtt 17:1-13) were all attempts to reveal the true identity of Jesus as the Christ. They remind us that Jesus is not just one of the prophets, He is the Son of Man – He is God.

The Jews see sickness and death as the two greatest enemies of human beings. They believe that only God has the power to destroy them. Our readings do not deny the devastating power of death. On the other hand it sees beyond death and presents eternal life as the reward for those who believe in God. By curing the woman suffering from hemorrhage and bringing the daughter of Jarius back to life, Jesus shows that He is God: for only God can conquer death with the gift of life.

Faith in God becomes the recipe that transforms death into a sleep (dormition) from which Jesus can and will awaken the faithful on the last day – the day of the Lord (1Thess 4:13-18). The Early Christian Community referred to the dead as "sleeping" since they believed that they would one day be awakened, just as people who are asleep are awakened. The word used by the early Christians for the place of burial is "koimeterion" meaning a 'sleeping place' and it is from this we have the word 'cemetery' for a place of burial.

Believers do not die, they sleep in Christ. However while they are alive, they have the option either to be like the woman with the issue of blood and Jarius who were empowered by their faith to approach Jesus for the solution to their problems or to identify with the crowd whose lack of faith is expressed in their weeping and wailing. Problems are never solved by the crowd because the crowd cannot reason. The crowd has neither eyes nor ears. The crowd has no heart. It is the individual who has the rational faculty strong enough to establish a relationship with the Divine.

By raising Jarius daughter, Jesus not only confirmed the reality of death but also assures us of God's power to raise us up – to free us from the bondage of sin and death. Jn 10:10 – "I have come that you may have life, life in abundance." Although death is real yet life in Christ remains a higher reality, and by His resurrection Jesus offers the gift of eternal life to all who believe in God (Jn 6).

Believers are the beneficiaries of this promise. However, all of us to some degree are wounded spiritually and physically. But, we often hide our wounds. Both Jarius and the woman who touched Jesus were deeply wounded persons. Their wounds were not always visible. Like them, there are lots of people today who live-on with invisible wounds. We often carry with us the invisible wounds caused by sickness, failure, disappointment, rejection, loneliness, betrayal, anger, worthlessness, bitterness, envy, jealousy, etc. and all these wounds need to be healed too.

Living in the world makes us a crowd but faith in God is what distinguishes us. Being among the crowd, many touched Jesus but their touch did not make any difference. Only the woman with faith touched Jesus and was healed, reminding us that it is only by opening up to the power of God and the care from one another that we can be healed of the wounds that deprive us of peace.

We are inter-related and inter-connected. Whether we like it or not, our lives are continually touching the lives of others either positively or negatively. Like Jesus, we are all called to become wounded-healers in one capacity or the other.

- By showing a little sympathy/empathy, we could ease a troubled mind.
- By sparing a bit of our time, we could ease the pain of loneliness for someone.
- By forgiving others, we could restore peace and tranquility in a broken heart.
- By praying like St. Francis of Assisi, we could become a channel of peace in the world.
- By loving like Mother Theresa, we could bring God's healing mercy to the sick.

And given the many gifts that abound in our hearts, the fundamental question to ask ourselves today is whether what goes out from us through our thoughts, words and actions bring about healing or destruction to others? "How far that little candle throws his beams! So shines a good deed in a weary world" writes William Shakespeare.

It is not easy to heal others. When Jesus healed the woman, power went out of Him. This reminds us that healing demands sacrifice. Power will surely go out of us should we decide to heal like Jesus. Even when we do not have all it takes to cure the sick, we do certainly have what it takes to care for the sick. Let us pray that like our mother the Blessed Virgin Mary, our touch, our look and our mere presence may bring God's healing mercy to all we meet.

Join us for an hour of meditation in the presence of Jesus. Everyone is invited. The service is bilingual.

Did You Know?

Neglect is the most common form of child abuse. It is the failure to meet a child's basic needs, including housing, food, clothing, education, safety and access to health care. Neglect is most often characterized by acts of omission that aren't easy to see. The signs of neglect are wide and varied, and may include: failure to develop and grow appropriately, or malnourishment, among infants; wearing inadequate clothing for the weather; and children who seem to be wholly responsible for the welfare of their siblings. If you know that any type of abuse is occurring, or if a child discloses to you, it is important to communicate these concerns to the appropriate authorities. Call your local law enforcement or child protective services department to report suspected abuse of any kind. For a copy of the VIRTUS® article "The Oft-Forgotten Type of Abuse: Neglect," visit: <http://www.la-archdiocese.org/org/protecting/Pages/VIRTUS-Current-Online-Articles.aspx> or call (213) 637-7508

Are You Being Called to be a Priest?

A website has been created to assist men of God who feel that priesthood might be their vocation, but who still have questions. The website "Diocesan Priest" serves ordinary men who are responding to their call to holiness by giving them guidance: "Is Jesus Christ calling me to be a Catholic priest?"

AYÚDAME, SEÑOR

Hoy escuchamos lecturas que nos acercan al misterio de sufrimiento y muerte. En los últimos años hemos sido testigos de la devastación de vidas y propiedades a manos de tsunamis y huracanes. Muchos elevaron su lamento a Dios y preguntaron: “¿Por qué?” Esta es una expresión sincera de ira hacia un Dios que creemos da la vida. Cuando perdimos a un ser querido, puede que nos preguntemos por qué la presencia de Cristo no es suficiente para hacer que esa persona resucite, incluso de entre los muertos, como la pequeña niña del pasaje del Evangelio de hoy. Entonces alzamos la voz y preguntamos: “¿Por qué?” En momentos como estos, debemos acudir a la oración del salmista: “¡Escucha Señor y ten piedad de mí; Señor, socórreme”. Recemos para que nuestro luto algún día se convierta en danza.

¿Sabía Usted?

La negligencia es la forma más común de abuso infantil. Es la incapacidad de satisfacer las necesidades básicas de un niño, incluyendo la vivienda, la alimentación, la ropa, la vestimenta, la educación, la seguridad y el acceso al cuidado de salud. La negligencia se caracteriza más a menudo por actos de omisión que no son fáciles de “ver”, no es como el abuso físico, donde normalmente hay evidencia de marcas físicas. Los signos de negligencia son amplios y variados, y pueden incluir: falta de desarrollo y crecimiento físico adecuado o malnutrición entre los lactantes; vestir a los niños con ropa inadecuada para el clima; y niños que parecen estar a cargo del cuidado de sus hermanos. Si usted sabe que está ocurriendo cualquier tipo de abuso, o si un niño se lo revela a usted, es importante comunicar sus preocupaciones a las autoridades correspondientes. Llame al departamento de policía o al departamento de protección de menores para reportar sospechas de abuso de cualquier tipo. Para obtener una copia del artículo de VIRTUS® “The Often-Forgotten Type of Abuse: Neglect” (El tipo de abuso comúnmente olvidado: negligencia), visite <http://www.la-archdiocese.org/org/protecting/Pages/VIRTUS-Current-Online-Articles.aspx> o llame al (213) 637-7508
