3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time, Year "B" The right time to change is now

There is a story of a certain teacher, well versed in science who told his 6th graders that the story of Jonah in the Bible is a fairy tale because it is scientifically impossible for Jonah to survive in the belly of a fish for three days. After thinking about it for a minute, one of the students told the teacher "ok, since there is no way we can know if it is true or not, when I get to heaven I will ask Jonah." The teacher immediately retorted "what if Jonah went to hell?" The student said "then you ask him."

Faith is a mystery. It may not be reduced to words. Yet, our inability to prove a fact does not make it false. It is like the color blue – our inability to explain the color blue so that a blind person may understand it does not mean that blue color does not exist. The essence of the story of Jonah lies not in the ability of Jonah to survive for three days in the belly of a whale but in the promptness of the people of Nineveh upon hearing the word of God preached by Jonah. The Ninevites changed from their evil ways and began to live a life pleasing to God.

It goes to show that change is possible – Change is the only constant in life.

Jonah was a good and honest man. Being a Jew, Jonah probably did not like the people of Nineveh because they allowed the Babylonians to pass through their territory in order to conquer Israel from the North.

Jonah loved God but cared less about the salvation of the people of Nineveh, hence his refusal to go to preach to them. It was common then for good people like Jonah to think that God's favor should be for the good people while the bad people like the Ninevites should perish in their sins.

Jonah did not want to go to preach to the people of Nineveh. Even when Jonah was practically forced to go to preach to the people of Nineveh, his message was simple, only "forty days more and Nineveh shall be destroyed."

Did Jonah expect the people of Nineveh to change? No. But did the people of Nineveh change? Yes. And this will be to Jonah's greatest surprise. Jonah comes to understand that God derives no pleasure in the death of the wicked but would rather have them change their evil ways and live.

Like the Jonah, what is my attitude towards people I do not like? People I consider wicked? Do I want them to perish or to change from their wicked ways and live?

The radical nature of the Ninevites change of heart becomes a model of what Jesus demands from us in the gospel message of the today. Jesus says "this is the time of fulfillment. The kingdom of God is at hand. Repent and believe in the gospel."

Change is possible. Change is good. Positive change brings peace and joy to the human heart. The main problem in life is not change but the same thing all the time. Doing the same thing and expecting a different result is nothing but the definition of insanity.

History is not wanting in the number of people who underwent a radical change in order to regain their freedom. If not Abraham, Moses, David, Mary, Mary Magdalene, Thomas, Peter, Paul, etc. we do know about people like Dennis Wholey "The Courage to Change: Personal Conversation about Alcoholism with Dennis Wholey" how he confronted his own problem with alcohol and later went on a mission to help other victims of what is sometimes called "the most treatable untreated disease in the world."

You and I may not have problem with alcohol, but we certainly do have many other weaknesses we are struggling with. Jesus call to conversion excludes no one "for all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of the God."

Who among us can say that he or she has no sin to repent from? We all stand in need of turning more and more away from selfishness and laziness, from pride and stubbornness, from greed and possessiveness, from doubt and arrogance, negativity and negligence, etc. to embrace the goodness of the Lord.

The reality of change, though hard it may be, is still one part of the story. Jesus calls us to turn towards something more radical. And that something is God's love – to bring ourselves closer to God's love and to believe in the Goodnews.

The easiest way to root out a bad habit is to reinforce it with virtue – take developing discipline to replace laziness, sharing more to overcome selfishness, making out time to pray to replace our addiction to television, speaking good words to replace our use of vulgar words, bless rather than curse, getting involved in noble causes like fighting for justice to replace the prejudice and bias we have in our hearts, etc. The radical nature of Jesus message becomes a reminder that the right time to effect change is now. By virtue of our baptism and confirmation, we have been called, chosen and anointed like the apostles to bring glad tidings to all irrespective of their religious affiliation or socio-political situation.

Jesus chose fishermen to become his apostles. Fishermen, shepherds and tax collectors were not known for their ritual purity because the nature of their work makes it difficult for them to observe the law like the Pharisees. But being open to the truth preached by Jesus is what transformed the lives of such lowly men and made them revolutionaries of the new age.

It is the truth that makes people great. Truth is not great because it is spoken by people in power. People become great whenever they embrace and speak the truth. True greatness, therefore, comes from knowing and living by the truth because it is the truth that sets us free. And if the Son of God has set you free, you are free indeed.

The issue may not be whether Jonah was in the belly of a fish for three days or not. There is no way we can know, but we do know that the need for change both in the world and in our individual lives continues to hunt the human heart. Our hearts, like that of Jonah and the apostles, will remain restless until we confront our fear of change and do whatever we need to do to contribute our quota in the civilization of divine love in the world.

WORKSHOP OPPORTUNITY NEAR US

"Mindfulness, Social Justice, and Learning the Language of Peace" with Dr. Christopher Key Chapple

This workshop will explore the intersection between mindfulness practice and social justice work, with special attention to developing mindful communication skills. How do we effectively communicate, especially in conflict situations, in a way that reflects the values and insights nurtured in the quiet of meditation? How do we express the practice in active, socially engaged contexts?

PREPARING FOR ASH WEDNESDAY 2•14•18

Why do we celebrate Ash Wednesday? What is the meaning of ashes? First and foremost, the ashes represent a symbol of our own creation from dust. They are a reminder of our temporary time on Earth. Though we may return to dust, an eternal hope in Christ is palpable. Ashes also symbolize both our human despair in sin, and the mercy we are offered by God. Ashes give us a visible sign of our need for God's mercy. When we receive ashes, we hear, "Repent and believe in the Gospel." Repentance is a theme of Lent. As we celebrate Ash Wednesday, Jesus is with us on our journey. www.thetorchbc.com

"The beauty and majesty of the image of the Holy Child must have moved the heart of the queen of Cebu to embrace Christianity. As a translation of Pigafetta's chronicle says, "She was shown an image of our Lady, a very beautiful wooden Child Jesus, and a Cross. Thereupon, she was overcome with contrition and asked for baptism amid her tears... (later)...she asked to give her the little Child Jesus to keep in place of her idols and she went away." This wonderful event of the "first spiritual miracle of the Holy Infant," planted the seed of devotion that continued to take root into the soil of the hearts and minds of every Filipino even after the Spaniards left the islands. " Excerpt from "Our Restless Heart."

LAS EXIGENCIAS DE SER DISCÍPULO

Hoy ya encontramos lecturas con el tono penitencia de Cuaresma. Nínive ayuna durante cuarenta días, el salmista nos recuerda que sólo Dios puede indicarles el camino a los pecadores, san Pablo nos muestra que todas las cosas y los acontecimientos de este mundo son transitarios y Jesús nos dice: "Arrepíntanse" antes de llamar a sus nuevos seguidores. "Síganme", dice Jesús, pero si realmente vivimos los mandamientos y las exigencias de ser discípulos por el Bautismo, nos daremos cuenta de nuestra necesidad de conversión, de nuestro arrepentimiento, nuestra necesidad de creer plenamente en el Evangelio. El Evangelio de hoy comienza recordándonos lo que le sucedió a Juan Bautista por vivir plenamente su vocación como heraldo de Cristo y del Evangelio: fue arrestado, encarcelado y martirizado. Si bien pocos de nosotros sufriremos consecuencias tan extremas, todos debemos estar preparados para enfrentar algún tipo de rechazo por hacerle caso al llamado de Jesús, vivir el Reino de Dios que está próximo, arrepentirnos de nuestros pecados y creer en la buena nueva de salvación.

¿Sabía Usted?

Angelus News publicó recientemente un artículo sobre cómo la violencia doméstica afecta a toda la familia y a los miembros de la comunidad de todas las edades. En el artículo, la Dra. Ana Nogales dijo que "la violencia doméstica no sólo lleva a un altercado entre dos compañeros de vida, sino que puede dañar a niños inocentes. Tenemos que estar alerta y no tolerar el abuso en el hogar o en la comunidad". Para obtener más información sobre lo que puede hacer, lea el artículo completo en inglés en: <http://www.angelusnews.com/articles/violence-within-the-home-affects-the-entire-community>.

"La Iglesia y el mundo tienen una gran necesidad del culto eucarístico". -El Papa Juan Pablo II

La Adoración Eucarística Perpetua es la adoración de Jesús presente en la Eucaristía. Todo el que pasa tiempo en la adoración de Jesús fortalece su relación personal con él y crece en el amor y la santidad. El tiempo de silencio con el Señor también nos permite escuchar y reconocer su voz cuando habla a nuestros corazones.

Todos están invitados a pasar mas tiempo con El Señor en nuestra Capilla de la Misericordia en el Centro Pastoral.
