Mary, Mother of the Church

Pope Francis has made the devotion to the Virgin Mary a new fixed celebration in the Roman Catholic calendar. The Vatican published a decree in which Francis declared that the Mary "Mother of the Church" feast would be celebrated on the Monday following Pentecost. This year, it falls on May 21. The decree said Francis wanted the devotion to "encourage the growth of the maternal sense of the Church in the pastors, religious and faithful, as well as a growth of genuine Marian piety."

Palm Sunday, Year "B"
Jesus' Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem

Holy Week begins today with the celebration of the triumphal entry of Jesus into Jerusalem to sacrifice His life for the salvation of the world. An ancient tradition that predates Vatican II recommended that no homily may be given on this day. The antiphon – 'This is the gospel of the Lord' was not said at the end of the Passion. It was all silence all over because it is SILENCE that best explains the mystery we are celebrating now. It was after Vatican II that the tradition of giving a brief homily on this day was highly encouraged.

Every believer knows that even with a homily, no amount of words could explain the mystery that is unfolding before our eyes at this time in the life of the church. It is what the human mind cannot comprehend that the children of God are now celebrating in worship.

Jesus was used to visiting Jerusalem without much ado. Jesus often preached in the synagogues, healed the sick, and participated in a couple of temple sacrifices, but today's triumphal entry is one with a difference. It marks a unique point in the fulfillment of scripture "Say to the daughter of Sion, 'Look, your King is coming to you. He is humble, riding on a donkey- riding on a donkey's colt.'"

On this day, Jesus brings to fulfillment the desire of the ages – the human desire to be liberated from the bondage of sin. In the events that unfold, we see the faithfulness of God and the unfaithfulness of the people. It is the same mouth that shouted "Hosanna" as Jesus was entering Jerusalem that now shouts "ecce homo" "crucify Him, crucify Him" as Jesus entered Jerusalem.

However, we are not here today to condemn the crowd but to question the credibility of our faith. It is much easier to join the crowd to sing "Hosanna" or to shout "crucify Him" than to stand for the truth. Are we courageous enough to shout "Jesus Christ is Lord" when the crowd is chanting "Ecce Homo?"

This is why I have always admired the courage of Veronica who wiped the face of Jesus and Mary Magdalene who stood up for Jesus even when everyone was against Him. In every generation God is still looking for those who are willing to stand for the truth.

It is because of our sins that Jesus goes to Jerusalem to die on the cross; the righteous dies for the unrighteous so that we may not seek salvation from the works of our hands.

From the moment Jesus was betrayed by one of His own, Jesus was no longer in control of what happened to Him. "Things were now done to Him rather than by Him." Where do we stand in this scenario?

On Good Friday the Passion narrative will again reveal to us how those events will ultimately lead to our salvation. Like Jesus, much of our lives are determined by what is done to us than by what we do. But it is how we respond to what is done to us that shows the quality of our faith. Are we still a people who truly believe that God is faithful to His promise and are willing to stand up for the justice?

We celebrate the Passion of Jesus every year because the Passion is not a thing of the past. In Jesus' passion we see our own passion. As we go through life there is betrayal, bad luck, illness of one kind or another, loss of friendship, death of loved ones, disappointments, crisis in the family, war, conflict at places of work, etc. Of course, there are also moments of peace and moments of joy. But the reality is that there are many things that happen to us in life which are outside of our control – like things that bring us pain and disappointment.

The simple truth is that no matter your size, weight, color, race or status in life, no one likes to experience pain. Painful moments can make or break us, yet, it does not define who we are. We are greater than the pain and suffering we experience in life.

It is important for the children of God to understand that the value of suffering does not lie in the pain of it, but, in what the sufferer makes of the experience of pain. Painful experiences may be devastating; yet, suffering can purify one's soul and transform one's character. Pain can bear fruit because unless the seed dies, it cannot produce fruit but if it dies, it produces fruit in abundance.

Pain is an indispensable aspect of becoming truly human. Painful experiences can mold us into a people of compassion, maturity and holiness. It is by uniting our suffering with that of Jesus on the cross that it becomes salvific. It is no longer you who suffer but Christ who suffers in you and brings to completion that which is incomplete in us.

The passion story, therefore, is no longer a story of pain, hatred and suffering. It is a story of LOVE. It shows how Jesus responded in love to what was done to Him because of our sins. He accepted it all, transformed it and returned it as love and forgiveness.

The Passion is the victory of love over the powers of pain, suffering and destruction that the children of God continue to experience in the world today. Jesus saw it all, yet, there is nothing but love in Him. Even when they nailed His hands and feet, He remained loving.

Like Jesus, the greatness of our Christian faith will become manifest if we can be bold enough to sing Hosanna when others are chanting "crucify Him, crucify Him" and when in spite of the hard times we go through in this life, we could still remain a loving, caring and compassionate people who are willing to die with Jesus so that we may rise with Him on Easter Sunday.

Palm Sunday

Did You Know?

As parents, educators and volunteers, we want children to know that we are not only authority figures in their lives, but also people they can trust. To foster authentic trust with children, it is important that they know that you understand them. One of the simplest ways to do this is by repeating back what children are telling you. When you do this, you are affirming to the child that they are heard and understood. LA PASIÓN

El contraste entre la lectura procesional de la liturgia de hoy y la proclamación de la Pasión es asombroso. Vislumbramos cuán profundamente la Palabra de Dios se cumple en Jesús.

Primero Jesús debe ser acogido como el Mesías, el que viene en nombre del Señor. Debe ser reconocido por todos, aunque no sepan lo que están diciendo. Todos piensan que es el rey prometido; un rey terrenal de los judíos que los librará de la ocupación romana. No comprenden todavía, ni siquiera los discípulos, exactamente a dónde se dirige su procesión triunfal. Nosotros tampoco sabemos a dónde estamos yendo en nuestra vida. En la fe podemos seguir a Cristo dondequiera que nos guíe, porque estamos seguros de que la muerte no es el final y el mal no será el vencedor.

¿Sabía Usted?

Como padres, educadores y voluntarios, queremos que los niños sepan que no sólo somos figuras de autoridad en sus vidas, sino también personas en las que pueden confiar. Para fomentar la confianza auténtica con los niños, es importante que sepan que los entienden. Una de las maneras más sencillas de hacerlo es repitiendo lo que los niños le están diciendo. Cuando usted hace esto, usted está afirmando al niño que ellos son oídos y entendidos.
