Turn the circuit breaker to the “OFF” position/or pull the fuse out. 4. To restore electrical service call your power company. 5. For circuit boxes: Switch off smaller breakers first, then the main breaker 6. Fuse boxes: Unscrew the individual fuses, then pull the main switch.

Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity Year B

Belief in the Trinity is the most profound and comprehensive belief of the church. This doctrine which from time immemorial has enriched our knowledge of God has remained a controversial dogma. It was said that one philosopher argued long and hard with the Fathers of the Council, trying to prove logically that Jesus as the Son cannot be consubstantial with God the Father.

In a tense moment of long debates and as some people were eager to leave, the Fathers were suddenly confronted by a simple elderly shepherd (often identified as St. Spyridon, a saint of the Orthodox Church), who announced that he was prepared to argue with the philosopher and disprove his arguments.

Turning to the philosopher, St. Spyridon looked into the eye of his mind, and said: "Listen, O philosopher, God is one, the Creator of heaven and earth, who has created all things through the power of the Son and the operation of the Holy Spirit. This Son of God became incarnate, lived among people, died for us and rose again. Do not labor in vain to seek evidence for that which is comprehended by faith alone, but answer me: do you believe in the Son of God?" Deeply struck by these words, the philosopher could only say, 'I do'.

St. Spyridon goes on to say: "If you believe, then, let us go to the church and there I will bring you into communion with this true faith."

The philosopher immediately stood up and went with the saint. On his way out, he admonished those present, thus: "When people tried to convince me with words, I countered words with words; but when a divine power came forth from the mouth of this old man, then, words were no match for this power, as man cannot contend against God."

The Trinity is a truth of faith and not of facts. There is no way the human mind can comprehend it that there are three persons in one God. It is like the colors, because the human mind may not be able to define the color blue, red or green so that a blind man can understand it, does not mean that the color blue, red, green, etc. does not exist. All it goes to show is the limited power of human words to grasp the inner workings of certain reality.

The Trinity is a truth of faith and not of logic. This is not to say that belief in the Trinity is unreasonable. It means that it is a truth that is beyond reason. Logical reasoning provides human beings with basis of operations in the world but this is not to say that all of reality could be limited to logical reasoning. If the human mind cannot define the colors which are physical realities, how much more is the human mind capable of defining the Trinity which is a transcendental reality?

The Trinity is a truth that is given and it is expected to be received in faith. Oftentimes we think all our actions are guided by reason, yet, we do know that most of what we are and most of what we do are based on facts that are given. There may not be an infallible logical reasoning to believe that there will be tomorrow or that I am still alive now and not simply dreaming. There have been times I have won the super lotto in my dreams and it looked so real, only to wake up and it is but a dream.

We may not know everything there is in the world; yet, we do know that the much we know is good enough for us to live a meaningful life in the world. The operational principle of things in our world for the most part is based on a mixture of faith and reason. Our ability to hold both truths in a healthy balance is an authentic sign of Christian maturity in holiness.

Belief in the Trinity in Unity becomes an invitation to be humble. Humility does not consist in thinking less of yourself but in thinking of yourself less. To appreciate the truth of the Trinity does not demand that we ignore the truth of science and reason. Reason remains a good guide for life of holiness in the world. However, our life will be miserable should we insist on limiting the truth of all we have and all we are to a logical conclusion. We are fundamentally spiritual beings.

The Trinity is love in action – to live in love is to live in God. The love journey is not a logical one. There is no single formula that exhausts the meaning of love. Love may be guided by reason, yet, love is superior to reason. True love demands a leap of faith. Love is a movement to the unknown. It is a selfless giving of oneself, whole and entire. It is the denial of the self and an acceptance of the "other." It is a sacrifice and a dying to oneself.

The final destination of love may be unknown to human beings but it is very well known to God. If human beings are to refuse to live in love because of its unknown character, how miserable our world would be. This is true because there is no credible alternative to love.

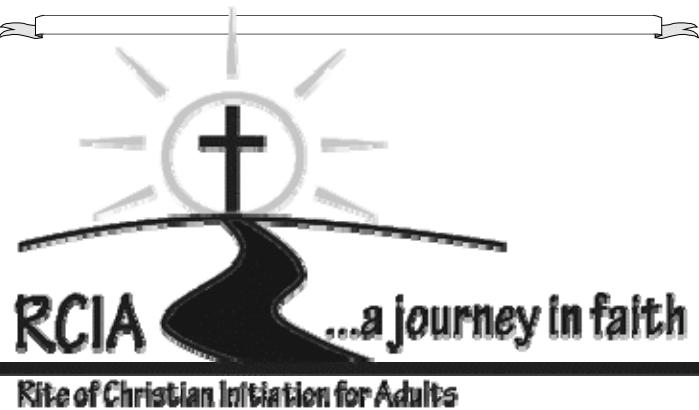

The Trinity is love par excellence – our relationship with God is governed by love. From the beginning, it was out of love that God created human beings. For God said, "Let us make man in our own image and likeness" Even when human beings sinned and inflicted on God an injury that God could not metaphysically condone. For authentic reparation that could bring about divine justice, it was out of love that God redeemed and reconciled the world to Himself – "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believes in Him, might not perish but may have eternal life (Jn 3:16). Finally, it was out of the love between God the Father and God the Son that the Holy Spirit was given to us, to sustain us in the truth of God.

In the Trinity we live, move and have our being. No wonder we are baptized "in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit." Whenever the baptized gather in prayer, we gather "in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit." Whenever we want to glorify God for His goodness to us, we say "Glory be to the Father, and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit." As we honor the Trinity in our prayers today, we are reminded (by the philosopher of our story) that our belief in the Trinity comes alive only when the children of God worship God in honesty and live in unity in the world.

Did You Know?

Developing a family fire plan for evacuation can save lives. Children should be a part of the planning, and should know which exits to use to get out of the house and where to meet once they are safely outside. Smoke detectors and fire extinguishers should also be part of your plan; children should know what to do if the smoke detector goes off, and older children should be taught how to use a fire extinguisher. LA RESPONSABILIDAD DE NUESTRA FE

Hoy es un día para reflexionar sobre el hecho de que en el Bautismo, Dios Padre, Hijo y Espíritu Santo nos hizo hijos suyos. La primera lectura del Deuteronomio nos insta a anclar en nuestro corazón la verdad de que Dios es el Señor del cielo y de la tierra y que no hay otro dios. San Pablo nos recuerda que, al haber recibido el Espíritu de adopción en el Bautismo, ahora somos hijos de Dios. En el Evangelio Jesús nos encomienda la responsabilidad de encontrar más discípulos. Estas realidades hacen de la solemnidad de hoy un día de alabanza, adoración y responsabilidad. Es un día apropiado para agradecerle a Dios el generoso regalo de la fe que recibimos en el Bautismo. También es un día para pedirle a Dios fortaleza para asumir la responsabilidad de compartir esa fe con los demás.

¿Sabía Usted?

Desarrollar un plan de evacuación familiar en caso de incendio puede salvar vidas. Los niños deben ser parte de la planeación y deben saber qué salidas usar y dónde reunirse. Los detectores de humo y los extintores de incendios también deben formar parte de su plan, y sus hijos deben saber qué hacer si el detector de humo se activa y los niños mayores deben saber cómo usar un extintor de incendios.
