Year "B" Easter Sunday
Jesus is Alive forever, Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

The Christian story is a love story. Since love is a mystery which the human mind cannot fully comprehend, we celebrate and re-tell this story in many and varied ways. How strange it will sound for me to sing "Rudolf the Red Nosed Reindeer" on Easter Sunday! It will sound strange, not so? Yet, the Easter story is nothing but a re-creation of the Christmas story.

Unlike Christmas which is celebrated with pomp and pageantry, there may neither be any big time shopping nor exchange of gifts on Easter Sunday. There are no Easter carol on the radio and television. There are no shinning and twinkling lights to welcome the risen Lord, yet, like the birth of Jesus, we are "born again" today to a new life of glory, goodness and truth.

The unmistakable similarity which Easter shares with Christmas is that as the Good News of the birth of Jesus was given to Three Wise Men, today the Good News of the resurrection is given to Three Wise Women – Mary Magdalene, the Mother of James and Salome. Neither the shepherds nor the women were highly respected people of their time, yet, with the good news of salvation they were able to transform the world for the greater glory of God.

Hearing the good news and being led by the star, the shepherds went to where they imagined the King might be born – at the house of Herod. Little did they know that the revelation of Scripture has it that "in Bethlehem of Judea shall come forth a savior to shepherd God's people. Like the shepherds, the Women, knowing where Jesus was buried, go to look for Jesus in the tomb. Upon entering the tomb, the Angel said to them, "You seek Jesus of Nazareth, the crucified. He has been raised. He is not here."

We see the radical and transformational value of the resurrection in the fact that the risen and glorified Jesus goes not to Jerusalem the Holy City but to Galilee the "sinful city." – "Go to Galilee and you will see Jesus there" to liberate those whose souls were broken, forlorn and forsaken.

Jesus goes to Galilee because He died to save sinners and to restore a fallen humanity to the glory of God.

In Jesus, we see the Santa and we are the Rudolf. Like Rudolf the red nosed reindeer, our sins disfigure us and make us ugly, not appealing to look at. No one likes to play the reindeer game with us (Rudolf) because sin has disfigured us. Jesus, the divine Santa makes the ultimate sacrifice with His life to restore a wounded and fallen humanity to the glory of God.

Easter becomes our celebration of a new life in God. This new life is exponential in character because our former sinful life cannot explain the new glorious life we now enjoy in Jesus. How joyful, how happy, how blessed indeed is the life of the one who is restored to the glory of God!

Like the Shepherds and the Women, we often seek for Jesus in the wrong places. We spend so much of our precious time and energy looking for Jesus in places and persons where we imagine Him to be. How often have we looked for Jesus in our successes, good times, among the so called good people and people of influence, but miss seeing Jesus in our failures, bad times like poor health, disappointment, or among the unwanted and lonely people around us?

We spend thousands of dollars in search of the risen Lord at some shrines in Europe, churches in the Holy Land and other places we consider sacred, and miss seeing Jesus who is always present at the secular and sinful places, work places, and shopping places around us.

Where is the risen Lord? To know where the risen Lord is necessitates that we should know what the message of the resurrection is. That single message is "God is love." Anyone who lives in love, lives in God and God lives in Him. God's love is not to be found in Jerusalem. Jesus is found in the Galilees of our world today – Jesus is among the poor, the homeless, the sick, the lonely, the prisoners in jail, the oppressed and the forgotten.

Look around you, there is Jesus in the beauty of nature - the mountains proclaim the glory of God, the flowers, the songs, the setting of the sun reveal the presence of God, etc.

Our celebration of the Eucharist becomes both a concrete expression of our belief in the resurrection of Jesus and our willingness to go beyond our own expectations of where the risen Lord is found. It is an invitation to see God in all things here and now.

Jesus is not dead. Jesus is alive ...forever. Alleluia is our song. We do not worship a dead God. We worship a living God who is always present in us, in others and in the world.

The great news of Easter is that the quest for holiness remains a fundamental human project but with the resurrection of Jesus from death, we no longer have any need to go to Jerusalem or Rome to see and touch Jesus. Jesus is here with us as we gather in His name. Look at your right and you will see Jesus, and at your left and you will see Jesus.

Make no mistake about it; "Rudolf the red nosed reindeer" is not a thing of the past. There are many Rudolfs around us who are ignored and neglected and are still in dire need of our help. The Easter joy thus challenges us to go out to the Galilees of our world today to proclaim the good news of salvation by working for the civilization of love on earth.

We shall truly become an Easter people when we can see and hear the voice of the risen Lord in the voice of the baby who is crying during this liturgical celebration, on the face of the handicapped who are struggling to push their wheelchair and on the face of the beggar on the street who may not even be asking for our help. It is by so doing that we unite with the faithful of all ages to sing here and now, Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia.

Mary, Mother of the Church

Pope Francis has made the devotion to the Virgin Mary a new fixed celebration in the Roman Catholic calendar. The Vatican published a decree in which Francis declared that the Mary "Mother of the Church" feast would be celebrated on the Monday following Pentecost. This year, it falls on May 21. The decree said Francis wanted the devotion to "encourage the growth of the maternal sense of the Church in the pastors, religious and faithful, as well as a growth of genuine Marian piety."

Did You Know?

Children are exposed to many words, expressions, actions, and beliefs through their experiences. This is how they learn to become adults, and learn how to live in the world around them. Children turn to their parents for guidance. Strong family values modeled at home help children sustain their faith and teach them to live as children of God. Recommit to your families - listen to your children, model good behavior and virtue, and instruct them in faith. Pray to Mary for help, and ask her for guidance in raising your children as she did her Son. PROCLAMA AL CRISTO RESUCITADO

En la mañana de Pascua el clima primaveral, las flores, los pájaros y las mariposas, las personas que nos rodean con sus mejores galas, la hermosa liturgia y la agradable música, todo parece dar testimonio de que Jesucristo ha resucitado hoy. De la misma manera que los relatos de los testigos en la lectura de hoy, la vida gloriosa y gozosa que nos rodea nos ayuda a creer en la buena nueva de la Resurrección y exclamar "¡Aleluya!"

Hoy en la Sagrada Escritura escuchamos a Pedro, a Pablo y a Juan quienes hablan con convicción de haber visto al Cristo resucitado. El relato del Evangelio según san Juan incluye a María Magdalena, quien también tuvo el privilegio de ser testigo de la Resurrección y contarles a los demás la buena nueva. En este glorioso Domingo de Pascua, ¿podemos nosotros también dar testimonio de que Jesucristo ha resucitado hoy y está vivo y activo en nuestra vida?
